REPORT THREE PER CENT OIL TAX

BRITISH CHANCELLOR CLAIMS POLITICIANS HOLD WHIP IN U. S.

SAYS ONLY EASTERN STATES "THINK" LIKE THEY DO IN ENGLAND.

DESCRIBES AMERICANS AS "COUNTRY PEOPLE"

Claims West Only Interested In Raising and Marketing Its Products.

By Associated Press

SOUTHAMPTON Jan 27—Stanley Baldwin chancellor of the exchequer returning on the Olympic today from his debt mission to Washington told newspapermen that settlement of the debt question in the United States was "in the hands of politicians" and that the situation constituted the great difference between America and this country.

Maintaining that in America "you have an executive who is willing to do a great deal for you but cannot because of difficulties encountered in congress Mr Baldwin said

"In the early days the secretary of the treasury could undoubtedly have arranged terms with the British government but the situation now is complicated because the matter is in the hands of the American congress You are not settling with one man with the cabinet at one door with business men at the other You are settling with congress and the senate which represents the people of America from one end of the country to the other England if any terms are agreed on regarding the debt the government takes the responsibility

While chancellor said he wondered whether the position which obtains regarding the debt is as clear in America as in this country continuing he asserted

Great Difference.

The great difference between America and this country is that the settlement of the debt in America is in the hands of politicians. We are bound to regard that debt as the most stringent bonds you can possibly imagine

Mr Baldwin described Americans as "country, not a urban people".

"They have men of our way of thinking in the eastern states" he said but that does not cut any ice at all with regard to the other parts of America

"If you look at the senate you will find that the majority of the members come from the agricultural and pastoral communities and they do not realize the existing position with regard to the meaning of the international debt

"The talk of the people in America have not a quaintance with it. Great Britain lives on international trade but in America this is not so. The people in the west merely want their wheat and hogs and other produce and take no further interest in connection with the international debt or international trade

Drawn Comparison.

"They are in very much the same frame of mind we used to be in regarding reparations when a large number of people in this country thought that Germany would send a wagon load of eggers Saturday night and that the money was paid up A great many people in America think that all we have to do is send money over here

"The debt can only be funded on such terms as can be got through congress and the senate and that is a root of the difficulty with which we are now faced

"Asked what he would return to America he said

"I should like to do so because I have been well received there but I shall not be able to return as I have my own work to do at home"

NEAR-PANIC ENSUES WHEN FILM IGNITES IN LOCAL THEATER

EXCITABLE SOMEBODY SHOUTS "FIRE" AND MANY RUSH FOR EXITS

NO DAMAGE RESULTS FROM INSIGNIFICANT BLAZE

Many of Spectators Remain Calmly In Seats—Others Return When Alarm Passes.

Some excitable person shouted "Fire" at the Lyric theater Friday night during the showing of "Texas of the Storm Country" when the film caught fire in the projection room

The fire was promptly reflected on the screen giving undue realism to the tiny blaze and the cry of "Fire" was followed by a general scamper for the exits Some of the spectators made for the doors with that haste and disregard for others that is the chief source of danger on such occasions and for a brief time the scene around the exits had the semblance of a panic

Only about a third of the spectators participated in the rush Many of the crowd did not hear the cry of "Fire" and thought the excitement due to a fight, taking little heed of it

The blaze itself was extinguished within a few seconds and only a few inches of film was damaged The projection room is in the top of the building above the balcony so that even had there been a real fire there it would not have interfered with the exit. The damage from fire was remote that from panic was much more present

Many of those who rushed out came back and saw the rest of the picture after it became apparent that there was no danger

Today the Japanese press quotes this passage from the official gazette and adds the government has explanation that the premier meant to state that informal exchange of views was made among the three powers regarding retrenchments to be made in the budget on the basis of the naval agreement

"KLAN" BEFORE BAR OF PUBLIC OPINION AND JUDICIAL BODY

CHICAGO IS SELECTED AS THE SCENE OF FIRST FORMAL TRIAL.

INVOLVES MEMBERSHIP OF FIREMAN OF CITY

Imperial Officers On Ground to Contest Action of the Authorities.

CHICAGO Jan 27—Selection of Chicago as the scene of the first formal trial of the Invisible Empire Knights of the Ku Klux Klan before the bar of public opinion and a judicial body was indicated here today by developments since the arrival of imperial officers of the organization

William H Green city fireman whose suspension from the fire department for his alleged klan membership brought the officers here to challenge the action, yesterday repudiated former statements to the effect that he had resigned from the order He admitted his membership and asserted he wished to stand trial for suspension before the Chicago civil service commission on that ground

"We have decided to make an issue of this case to prove to the world that the Ku Klux Klan is a law abiding and legal organization and to prove that any city employee has a perfectly legal right to belong to it if he wants to join" Green said

At Green's suggestion the fire chief drew a charge against him for presentation of the civil service commission which in part reads as follows

That the said William H Green fireman is an admitted member of the Ku Klux Klan and that he has subscribed to an oath of the said organization which is contrary to the provisions of the constitution of the United States of America and which is evidence of his unfitness to remain in the service of the city of Chicago

Hiram Wesley Evans imperial wizard of the klan although refraining from outlining the program of his activities here issued statements explaining the purposes and obligations of the order and repeated those of Louisiana state officials regarding the Bastrop investigation He charged Governor Parker of Louisiana with political error motives in starting the inquiry

Klansmen have no right to take law into their own hands Imperial Wizard Evans asserted except insofar as they are on duty as klansmen and pledged them under oath charged with enforcement of the law

While the klan was expected to make its first formal effort to answer press agents the organization cast off all of the mantle of secrecy and unveiled all natural and lawful health regulations for the purpose of forming the foundation of an organization opposed to the klan

Governor Parker and Governor Al Smith of New York were named as the principal speakers

Statement Issued

Wizard Evans statement follows

"The statement in reference to the Louisiana situation of the klan is in the first and most notable deduction and one which is apparent to everyone is that the enemies of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan represented by Governor Parker have stated and have been offering proof that the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and its members are guilty of lawlessness of any kind and the partial inquiry just closed at Bastrop brought out this fact The hearings at Bastrop has also brought out the fact that those who most fear the klan and are the bitterest to see law at last rule and their associates and those who would impute or attempt to attach lawlessness to the klan are compelled to use as witnesses people of low character and lawless regard

"It is lamentable that the governor of the great state of Louisiana whose people rank high as law and law abiding citizens of America should either for political purpose to vent spleen or gain votes so far forget the responsibilities of his office as to prostitute it and thus bring discredit upon his own state The hearing at Bastrop clearly brought out the fact that the governor of Louisiana was endeavoring to indict a patriotic organization rather than to apprehend criminals and see that they were punished The inquiry developed the fact, first the absolute incompetency and lack of ability of the chief executive of the great state of Louisiana and a lack of virility or character stamina of that great white Mason Coco used as the tool of the executive

"In spite of his provocative tactics plainly followed in his to produce riot in Morehouse parish this fiendish scheme against peace and dignity of a great state which originated in the mind of a venal governor has signally failed

"The need of the militia has not been proven On the other hand the failure to declare martial law has demonstrated the uselessness of its presence in Morehouse parish Richard or Daniel or both may have been murdered The klan gave its entire support to the inquiry in the sincere hope that the real truth might be discovered and the guilty punished

"Murder not lawlessness is the charge against the klan and if any klansmen have been found guilty of murder or any other crime they have gone out of the klan and have become the prey of the law

"Wherever we are we are hoping for a speedy end of the inquiry which shows and attempts to show that the klan is responsible for the murders of men, women and children, with heads, legs and arms blown off by dynamite bones broken the flesh was at times literally holding together

"It has not been proven that these southern lakes themselves infested with reptiles and fish life would permit bodies for nearly four months to rest undisturbed and in such a condition that the blood stains from the wounds could still remain to disclose the character of wounds

"It is known however that these conditions are physically impossible as it is also known that embalmed bodies might lie in these waters for two or three days and that the embalming fluid placed in them at the clinic from which they were obtained would protect them for some days in the water without loss or change

"It is also known as a physiological fact that fractures are produced by blows upon muscle covered bones precisely as those claimed by Mr Duval to have been upon the purported bodies of the victims

"Finally the klan claims no regard for rights upon the conduct of American citizens It uses no extralegal measures but it supports the duly constituted officers of the law in the full performance of their every legal duty

SAYS OPINION WILL TURN AGAINST KLAN THEN IT WILL DIE

AUSTIN Jan 27 — Public opinion will soon turn against the Ku Klux Klan because of the murders and crimes they are committing and then it will die said Judge W S Fisher professor of law in the University of Texas

Judge Fisher was a member of the Ku Klux Klan during the civil war and for several years made an address on the history of that organization but for the last three years he has discontinued the practice he stated when asked his views as to the probable outcome of the present organization that if it had been formed I would never have gained such headway in the state

The organization could be used for a purpose if conducted in the right way he continued and the good conservative men in it will outweigh the influence of the bad then it would be a good thing to use bad men are going to get every order of that kind but if men would throw aside their masks I can see that law was enforced and instead of taking the law into their own hands they would be a powerful influence for good

"I don't know anything of the present organization It probably differs from the old Ku Klux Klan in its violation at least in the Ku Klux Klan of which I was a member religion made no difference whatever with being a member Jew or Gentile cast no Protestant if a man had fought as a soldier in the Civil war he was permitted to be a member We did not to wear masks because of the danger to us

MRS. BELL DESCRIBES EVENTS LEADING TO KILLING OF DEMOSS

NO APPOINTMENTS UNTIL MARCH 1

AUSTIN Jan 27—Governor Neff announced late Friday he would not make until March 1 appointments on the railroad commission to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Chairman Mayfield and the vacancy which is to be created by resignation of Earle B Mayfield

"You have the truth gentlemen believe me or not I shot him to save my life He crushed my heart He ruined my home He placed a dark cloud around my boy He spoiled my mothers birthright I loved him I wanted to do the right thing

Speaking in monotone with words flowing rapidly and freely from her quivering lips Mrs Ida Bell told the jury her reasons for shooting G A LeMoss at the Electra hotel on September 27 1922 She had detailed from beginning to end the events as they led up to the fatal shooting She was in tears during much of her stay on the stand

She told jurors that the man had told her in tender words how he loved her

"He was handsome and I loved him I listened to his protestations of love and finally I gave way to him she told the jury

On cross-examination the state introduced two letters which the defendant said she had written the deceased a week or 10 days before the homicide

She addressed the deceased in endearing terms She called him sweetheart honey dear and daddy In one of the epistles she said that she wanted him to get a room on the first floor next to hers The letter continued "You know the rest

Her testimony was all before the jury before the noon recess

The dying statement of G A DeMoss was introduced at the night session and read by Assistant County Attorney Wayne Somerville who told the jury that he had taken the statement from the dying man when he knew that he was dying Mr Somerville said that he had taken the statement in the full belief of the duty of his office

"She Was Jealous"

She shot me because she was jealous of me" the deceased had told Mr Somerville just before he died I only went with Mrs Bell once to a picture show I tried to avoid her and avoided her suggestions of closer relationship I never wronged the woman and I never wished to be friendly with her We never did have a quarrel This in substance was the contents of his confession

County Attorney B L Fillingim took the stand and proved up the statement taken from the accused She told how she had seen a pistol in the room of a friend between 4 and 5:00 o'clock of the afternoon of September 27 the day of the shooting and waited for LeMoss return from his work

It was there that I shot him I make the statement concluded

In making out their case state officials at the night session introduced J T Wheeler in charge of the Electra hotel where the killing occurred He told of the approach of Mr LeMoss and said that the defendant arose as he stepped on the porch Two shots were fired and LeMoss fell He said that LeMoss asked the boy to call a doctor and that Mrs Bell requested that officers be summoned for her

Dr R B Weller the physician who attended De Moss told that LeMoss died as the result of bullet wounds

R J Cavaden testified that the revolver used by the defendant belonged to him and that it was a 32 automatic

Defense Starts Testimony

Mrs Dallas Williams who said she was 18 years of age and had separated from her husband testified in behalf of the defense She told of various episodes around the Electra hotel especially those concerned in the deceased

She testified that LeMoss had upon one occasion asked her to go to his room but have added that she refused She said he told her that I would give her all the money she wanted and would take her with him to California if she would go to it that the way was clear when he wanted to go to Mrs Bell's room

"When I get hold of her children I will be through with her" the witness said DeMoss had told her when she inquired about Mrs Bell

Dora Cooley who said she was employed Mrs Williams as chamber maid at the hotel told of the finding of the letter in DeMoss coat pocket by Mrs Bell

On cross examination she told about the homicide She said she was sitting on the porch at the time and that she had seen when Mr DeMoss came up on the porch she stepped behind Mrs Bell just as the two shots were fired She heard Mr DeMoss ask for a doctor but said she did not hear Mrs Bell say anything

Defendant's Husband Testifies

The husband of the defendant was next called He told that he left the defendant at the Electra hotel when she appeared to be cold to me and I didn't feel like I ought to stay around so I went to Seymour

He said that his brother had received a message from the defendant the afternoon before the killing in which Mrs Bell stated that she was in trouble and wanted her husband to come after her and her little boy

He denied that he and his wife had had any real serious trouble at the Daugherty hotel in Paris where they lived before moving to the Electra hotel

GERMANS EXPECTED TO FURTHER RESIST FRENCH OCCUPATION

INDICATED BY MEETING OF RUHR POLICE AND STATE OFFICIALS.

FRANCE HAS PREPARED FOR ANY DEVELOPMENT

With Additional Troops On the Scene City Practically Under Martial Law

By Associated Press

DUSSELDORF Friday Jan 26—Whether a renewed offering of German resistance was generally anticipated by the French today as an aftermath of yesterday's meeting of the Ruhr police chiefs burgomasters and state officials at which it was said measures for parrying the occupation were discussed One immediate result of the conference was the arrest of its chairman Dr Gruelmer who was later released after General Simon had warned him that he would again be taken into custody if he remained obdurate

The French are understood to be ready for any developments and with additional troops on the scene have the city practically under martial law Bill places are closed hotels cafes cabarets and all places closed last evening at 10 o'clock the French white sheet dancers walked the beats of the German police

Reports that the French contemplate summoning several military classes suggest the extent to which the Paris government is preparing to go in forcing the Germans to the occupation It is thought likely however that the next important move will not come until after January 31 the limit for the 50 000 000 gold mark reparation payment

Industry and commerce are being seriously affected by the railway tie up and the French are ready to try their hand at operating the lines with 2 500 rail workers expected in the Ruhr today

Having established their own communications with the right bank Neuss Junction so as to avoid going into occupied territory the French informed Berlin that they expected no difficulty in the future in the question of larger traffic but that the rail strike is also being felt in the mines and steel plants for want of the workers to be kept for idleness

Impossible as it is for the French to carry out their threat to operate the German railways the French will be able to exert a telling pressure on Germany

This step in the French program is regarded by the French as the most important since the occupation began

Another significant step is the reinforcement of the French occupation by the arrival of Bavarian Bergomaster Schmitt Dr Lexer the Duesseldorf police chief and Dr Marx under arrest upon the order of Thursday Saturday to await trial at Mayence on charges of failing to preserve law and order

COYOTES DEFEAT DEVOL IN HARD FOUGHT CONTEST AT LEGION HALL FRIDAY

Devol had their undefeated record badly interfered with Friday night at the American Legion hall when the Coyotes took them under by a score of 31 to 18

The visitors started out strong with every indication of giving the Coyotes the battle they had expected but were unable to hold out at the rate they started. Before the end of the first half the locals had gained a heavy lead which visitors were unable to overcome

Captain Coffey at guard for the high school was back in the game after several weeks warming benches and made himself noticed Deems and Ray at forward were high point men of the game with six and four wickets each to their credit Coach Jones early the play predicted the outcome and gave all his material an opportunity In the last minute of play an entirely new team went into the field.

Devol put up a game fight from whistle to whistle but with weak guarding and badly aimed tossing they were not able to cope with the almost monotonous basket roping of Deems Ray and Baldwin

SHUFFLIN' PHIL DOUGLAS SIGNS TO PITCH FOR HORNELL INDEPENDENT

By NEA Service

HORNELL, N Y Jan 26—Announcement that Shuffling Phil Douglas banished spitballer of the New York Giants will be one of the hurling staff of the Hornell team next summer naturally focuses attention on what fans say is the real red hot baseball town of the country

Hornell is a thorn in the side of John J Farrell the minor league czar for it is an 'outlaw' town and doesn't give a rap who knows it Last year Farrell forbid all league teams from playing with Hornell and even black-listed other independent teams that played against Hornell But Hornell didn't mind and went out and won the independent or outlaw championship of the country

Phil Douglas is not the first star to sign with Hornell Scott Perry who was Connie Mack's pitching ace has been in Hornell for two years jumping there in 1921 He won 27 of the 31 games he pitched last summer while Bugs Herschs formerly International leaguer won 20 of the 21 he hurled

Joe Harris erstwhile of the Cleveland Indians played in Hornell in 1921 Harris has since been reinstated by Judge Landis

Jake Pitler, who jumped the Pittsburg Pirates, is playing manager of the Hornell club

The Hornell team is supported by popular subscription in addition to the heavy gate receipts It has no salary limit and pays as high as $4000 a year for the men it wants

Last year it won every series played winding up by beating the famous independent club at Shamokin Pa and then walloping George Texter's great club at Massillion O in seven out of ten games played

Hornell has a population of only 18 000 but has become famous in baseball because of the big league team it supports

Mack Figures Ruth to Shine

Connie Mack is one of the few baseball experts who figures Babe Ruth will do a real comeback in 1923 Here is what the famous leader of the Philadelphia Athletics thinks

Despite his miserable work in the world series Ruth is a great hitter I feel sure he will demonstrate that fact to the sorrow of many a pitcher before the coming season is over

I watched him in the world series His first trouble was overconfidence then as his drives refused to go safe nervousness and overanxiety ruined him

All that Ruth needs to do in order to regain his home run crown is to report in condition and keep that way

NO GLORY AT HOME—GOES EAST SEEKING FAME, ALSO FILTHY LUCRE

By NEA Service

CLEVELAND Jan 27—A season of inactivity in the west and middle west is all that Jerry Sachs can see for his middleweight Johnny Kilesch so Jerry intends to hie himself and the battler to eastern points within a very short time for the purpose of staging a real honest-to goodness campaign to land Kilesch on the middleweight championship throne

Jerry says promoters in the sections where Johnny has shown his stuff have run out of opponents for Kilesch so believes the only way to find work for his hard plunging battler is to take to sections yet unconquered

Not so long ago Jerry took Kilesch down the southwest where he under stood there was plenty of work for the battler of Johnny's caliber

But Kilesch just beat himself out of a good thing when he knocked out Art Magiri one of the best middleweights in the southwest and incidentally former champion of Australia in 10 rounds at Juarez Mexico

When other southwestern middleweights heard of Johnny's feat they immediately took to winter quarters and as a result Kilesch had to content himself with only one bout in that section

Although a bald spot on Johnny's head might lead one to believe he is an old man he is anything but that for he has seen just 22 summers and winters And not only in age is he a youngster but in the ring game for he has been boxing professionally only a little more than two years

JOHNNY KILESCH

In that time he has risen to dizzy heights and already has met such men as Frank Barrieu Harry Krohn twice Bryan Downey twice Joe Chip twice Johnny Basko Eddie McGoorty Freddie Black Billy Weeks Mike McTigue Bob Mohs Johnny Shea Art Magiri Billy Britton Hugh Ross and others

No. 23—THE WEIRDEST PITCHING I EVER SAW

Dolly Gray pitched the weirdest game I have ever seen in major circles Gray was a southpaw, and a pretty good one He came to Washington from the coast and spent his major league career with the Nationals.

Gray turned in his unusual performance against the Chicago White Sox on Aug 18, 1919 at Chicago

Gray allowed only one hit—a very questionable one—yet he was beaten 8 to 4 Not an error was made by his supporting cast. How come you say?

I pitched the game and can recall the happenings of the unusual contest as vividly as if they were just being staged In the second inning Chicago scored six runs through the medium of one scratch hit and a wild streak on the part of Gray It is questionable if there is anything to equal it in the history of major league ball

Gray retired the Sox in the first inning pitching perfectly In the second inning things began to happen Pat Dougherty led off with a high bounder to Bob Unglaub playing first base for Washington Unglaub jumped after it the ball struck the top of his glove and was deflected into right field It was scored as a hit, but I have always thought that Unglaub should have easily handled the ball

After Dougherty had reached first base Gray developed a streak of wildness—the most unusual streak I have ever seen He walked seven men in succession, forcing in five runs. The count was three and two on practically every batter A couple of outs and another base on balls was responsible for the sixth run of the inning

Joe Cantillon managing the Washington club was short on pitchers at the time and let Gray take his medicine In the next inning Gray recovered control and for the rest of the game held the Sox runless and hitless Washington staged several rallies and Chicago had a hard time winning 8 to 4

That game stands out in my memory as the most peculiar ball game I ever worked Gray who really pitched a no hit game was beaten 8 to 4 because he developed a streak of wildness in which he gave eight bases on balls in one inning seven of them in succession—forcing five runs over the plate

Tie it if you can for being out of the ordinary

Tomorrow—The coast east pinch hit I ever saw

Trade of Shocker Costly Mistake

Proving All "Bones" in Baseball Are Not Made on the Playing Field

By BILLY EVANS

Mistakes are a part of baseball The players make them on the ball field.

The club owners and managers make them in the seclusion of their offices

During the last two years the owners of the New York Americans have made a number of big deals for star players. Price has been no obstacle if it was believed the player would help the club

Babe Ruth Carl Mays Wally Schang, Joe Dugan, Waite Hoyt Joe Bush and Everett Scott are just a few of the stars purchased by the Yankees These players have played a prominent part in the success of the club

No player in baseball has placed more obstacles in the winning ways of the Yankees than Pitcher Urban Shocker of the St Louis Browns To make matters worse Shocker was once a member of the New York team.

Met on the Field

The passing of Shocker from the Yankees to the Browns was one of the errors not made on the ball field by the New York Americans

Shocker was traded to the Browns together with four other players for Darrill Pratt and Eddie Plank In addition there was a cash consideration of $35 000 that went to the Browns

Pratt has since passed from the Yankee lineup Eddie Plank never reported to New York retiring from the game Shocker is today one of the games greatest pitchers

Allowed to Drift

Shocker a pitching prize with Toronto in 1916 was allowed to drift from the Yankees a year later Since departing he has won gobs of glory Certainly there is no smarter pitcher in baseball

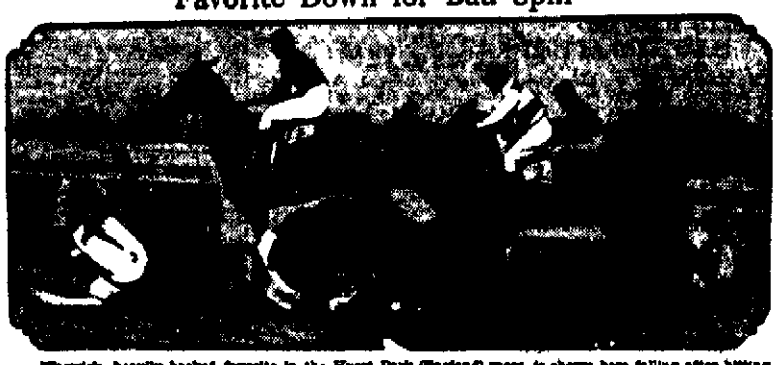
The star of the Browns' staff is a master of the spitball one of the few remaining curvers to rely on the damp delivery He has everything else in his repetoire

Shocker is a master strategist He makes a careful study of every batter learns their weakness and then pitches to it. Always the possesser of uncanny control he works the corners rarely cutting the heart of the plate

PITCHER URBAN SHOCKER

The Yankees certainly missed a pitcher of Shocker's type in the clash with the Giants The star of the Browns pitching staff is at his best in the pinch

Favorite Down for Bad Spill



Warwick, heavily backed favorite in the Hurst Park (England) mass, is shown here falling after hitting a hurdle. Jockey Mann, taking the tumble with him, was not seriously injured.

HOPELESS CRIPPLE AT 14 YEARS, NOW CONTENDER FOR A TITLE

A hopeless cripple at 14 years of age—a real contender for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship at 25 years of age

Paralyzed on one side so that an arm and limb were useless his physical condition that of an invalid his growth retarded it was by sheer determination that Allen Eustace Kansas farmer boy developed what experts declare is one of the most perfect bodies in the country today He now stands six feet three inches tall and weighs 235 pounds without an ounce of superfluous flesh

Eustace was born on a farm near Wakefield Kas which is about 20 miles from Junction City Through heavy lifting while working on the farm he became paralyzed

The usual medical treatment was given but failed to effect a cure Then his attention was attracted by an article on wrestling in a magazine He became interested in the picture illustrating the various holds and development of muscles by prominent wrestlers and by the aid of some of his companions began exercising and working the various holds known to wrestling Soon found his condition improving as the result of the stretching and use of the muscles circulation began to resume course and through the stagnated veins and in six years he made his first public appearance At the age of 18 he won the amateur championship of Kansas

Since entering the professional game he has defeated Earl Taylor Charles Cutler Ed Martenson Lou Louis Salinas Chevalier Ivan Lilo John Crandavich and many other prominent heavyweights

BREAKS IN LUCK MUST FAVOR PITCHER WHO WINS 25 GAMES

The showing of Ed Rommel in winning 27 games for a club that finished seventh in the American league is one of the greatest pitching feats ever recorded

Any time a major league pitcher wins 25 games or more he must not only pitch good ball but he must also be favored by the breaks It seems the good pitchers usually get the breaks

Good pitchers are often called upon by their manager in a pinch When there is a chance of winning a game or holding a lead the star pitcher is instantly called upon

That was the case with Rommel last year With the score tied and the pitcher wavering or having been removed for a pinch hitter Rommel was the man Mack saw called in

It perhaps 8 of the 27 victories scored by Rommel he was returned the victor in games in which he pitched only from one to three innings

If the Athletics tied the score in the eighth or ninth Rommel would be the lucky relief worker and Mack could say the Athletics would go right out and get the winning run for Ed in the very next inning which of course would give him credit for the victory

Of course when a pitcher takes up a tie game he has the same chance to lose or win and is deserving of the credit of the game considering it is a fifty fifty proposition However one gets a big break when time after time the margin falls on their side Rommel was blessed with that good fortune last year otherwise he never would have been able to win 27 games with a seventh place club

Schupp Proves Costly Pitcher

Pitcher Ferdie Schupp, who has had a most unusual career in baseball, having played in both majors and several of the leading minors bobs up once more in a new role

Last year the Chicago White Sox secured Pitcher Mack from the Seattle club Ferdie Schupp's inability to control the ball caused Kid Gleason to lose faith in him and he was sent to Seattle in part payment for Mack

Report has it that Jim Boldt the owner of the Seattle club paid Schupp $1 000 for his services In return for the thousand bucks Schupp went out and lost seven straight ball games

Some costly investment for Seattle

LEFT-HANDED BATTERS ARE SUPREME IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

For many years or perhaps since baseball was in its infancy the relative merits of right handed batters and those of southpaw swingers have been vehemently discussed

And while many arguments in favor of both have been voiced time and time again still it is generally accepted that the hitters who strike from the left side of the plate have a distinct edge in that their position in the batter's box gives them a good full step leader over that of the right handers

On a hit and run play the infield taps are turned into base knocks that would mean a sure put-out for the starboard guys

The proof of the assertion that left handed batters usually obtain higher batting percentages than do the right handers is borne out in the official averages of the American league for the 1922 season

Of the 12 leading hitters no less than nine of them take their cuts from the left side of the plate with Sisler Cobb and Speaker all south paws topping the list Harry Heilmann of the Detroit Tigers as was the case in 1921 led the field of right handers finishing fourth In coincidentally Heilmann swat king a year ago is the only right hand hitter to lead the Johnsonian loop in batting since 1905 when Lajoie turned the trick

That it would appear that left-handed batters as a rule have a marked advantage over their right hand rivals in that all important dash down to first base

15 GOLFERS HAVE CHANCE TO BREAK 300 SCORE TODAY

SAN ANTONIO Jan 27—Fifteen of the eighty one players remaining in the Texas open championship golf tournament on San Antonio municipal links have a scheme to break 300 for the 72 holes of play as against 11 who succeeded in doing so at the first tournament last year No player with the possible exception of William Melhorn of Shreveport who turned in a card of 137 yesterday is likely to surpass the record of 281 made last year by Bob McDonald of Chicago, who did not defend his title this year The final 36 holes start at 8 o clock

Two foursomes are expected to draw the largest galleries today In one Melhorn is matched with Joe Lally of San Antonio and Joe Kirkwood Australia meets the youthful sensation of the tournament Jack Tarrant of San Antonio who made 144 yesterday and who aided Tom Byrd Thursday in setting a course record of 66 best ball play

The other foursome scheduled to draw a large gallery includes Jim Barnes Walter Hagen Bob Peebles and Frank Sprogell of Memphis Tenn Sprogell went around in 146 yesterday

Fair weather was forecast for today

BASEBALL POOLS GREATEST MENACE, LANDIS DECLARES

NEW HAVEN CONN Jan 27—Baseball pools are the greatest menace facing the national game declared K M Landis baseball commissioner in an address last night at a testimonial dinner to William L (Wild Bill) Donovan manager of the New Haven Eastern league club and the players who won the Eastern league pennant last season Commissioner Landis declaration of war on the baseball pools brought the more than 300 men at the dinner to their feet with cheers

With the help of the fans of the country said the commissioner I hope to drive the baseball pool operators from the game in five years

EUSTACE AND ZBYSZKO EACH GET ONE FALL

CHICAGO Jan 27—Allen Eustace Kansas heavyweight wrestler shared honors with Stanislaus Zbyszko former champion of the division in their match here last night both gaining a fall Zbyszko won the first fall in 27 08 and Eustace took the second in 17 20 Their attempts for a third fall ceased at midnight according to a previous agreement

FOUR NEW MANAGERS WILL MAKE DEBUT IN MAJORS COMING SEASON

Four new faces will be seen among the various big league managers over the course of a year ago when the 16 major league clubs start their annual invasion into southern climes within the next six weeks or so

Art Fletcher Phillies and Bill Mckechnie Pittsburgh of the National loop and Frank Chance Boston and Owen Bush Washington of the American are the quartet referred to

Of the other dozen Connie Mack is the pioneer, having led the Athletics on 23 previous campaigns, or ever since Philadelphia came into the Johnsonian circuit back in 1901 McGraw of the Giants is right behind with 20 seasons to his credit while the rest have been piloting their respective clubs at least two campaigns

And of the 16 five have acted in a similar capacity for other major league outfits with Hughey of the Yankees Chance of Boston and Mckechnie Cardinals having led teams in both circuits during their careers

Most of the present day pilots have long since laid aside their playing uniforms being content to give their orders from the bench In fact Cobb Speaker and Fletcher are the only regular player managers though Hugh may decide to get into some of his team's games this season

One odd feature in regard to the men who guide the destinies of the major league clubs concerns Connie Mack In all the years that the veteran manager has piloted the Athletics he has never appeared on the bench in a performance regular citizens rather than a professional in the uniform of the outfit

Instability

By BERTON BRALEY

(Copyright, 1922, NEA Service)

They may catch a roving comet by its tail
And reduce it to the hauling of a cart,
They may chain the roaring torrent and the gale,
For the scientists are growing very smart.
They will doubtless train the antelope to drive
In the harness of a buggy or a shay,
But there isn't an inventor now alive
Who has found domestic servants that will stay!

Oh, the flea is rather flighty in his style,
And the butterfly is restless, so to speak,
But the servant has them beaten by a mile
With an errant instability unique.
All the "wanderlust" the poet sings about
Sends the clan—miscalled "domestics"—on their way,
They are born of gypsy blood beyond a doubt,
For you simply cannot find one who will stay.

We have given them the guest room for their own,
We have let them off each afternoon and night,
Though the burden of their wages makes us groan,
We have paid them with a manner all delight;
But the moment that we dreaded has to come
When they don their travel kit and draw their pay
And we hear the fearful words: "I'm leavin', mum,"
For you cannot get a servant who will stay!

Oh, you master minds of science, heed our cry,
Would you mitigate the woes of mortal clay?
Put your brains on something useful, won't you try
To invent a type of servant who will stay?

FORCE OF RANGERS EXCEEDS 300 SAYS ADJUTANT GENERAL

AUSTIN, Jan. 27.—State rangers have been called into service during the past two years to a greater extent than at any time in recent years, according to Adjutant General Thomas D Barton. It is unusual for a day to pass without a request for assistance of the rangers in some portion of the state, the adjutant general declared.

As evidence of the activities of the rangers during the past year, Barton stated that during the recent railroad strike, it was necessary to increase the ranger force to 500 and then the state department was unable to furnish all the rangers called for at various points. The force at the present time numbers slightly over 300 and the special rangers are being discharged as strike duty is decreased.

The work of the rangers on the border during the last biennium also has been important, Barton said. He pointed out that 15 alleged smugglers have been killed during the period and a large number captured. More than 15,000 quarts of liquor was captured together with 23 automobiles and 150 horses.

Barton expressed the opinion that the ranger forces on the border are inadequate and that the force there should be increased by two companies. During the recent strike, a majority of the rangers were removed from border duty and placed on duty at strike centers.

Adjutant General Barton believes that an increase in the ranger force to 188 as provided in a bill now pending in the house, would be sufficient to handle present situations.

LARGE AMOUNT OF LETTUCE IS SHIPPED

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Jan. 26—Texas has come to the front as an important lettuce shipper, according to J. Austen Hunter, director of the Texas Radio Market News Service of the state department of markets. There has been an average movement of six cars a day from Texas during the past season, most of the shipments going by freight, according to Hunter. Laredo has been the point of origin of most of the lettuce crop, it is stated. The Texas lettuce acreage this year is placed around 900 acres compared with 1,100 acres last year.

The national lettuce movement is totaling around 100 cars daily, the bulk of which is furnished from the imperial valley in California, Arizona, southern California, Texas and Florida.

The crew is said to have undergone suffering from a shortage of food and water. The Helvetia sailed from New York December 12.

CHARGE POWERFUL ALLIANCE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND CHINA

SHANGHAI, Jan. 27.—Growth of a powerful alliance between soviet Russia and the southern faction of China headed by Sun Yat Sen is seen in an editorial today in which Eugene Chen, personal secretary and right hand man to Dr. Sun, discusses the cordial conference yesterday between the Canton leader and A. A. Jofee, envoy extraordinary from Moscow to China.

"Russia," he writes, "shares with China a strain of blood high in Asia. Scratch the Muscovite and it is said you find a tartar.' Is it this call of blood that has turned the face of Russia toward China? We can leave this thought to the attention of the post-war policy of the Anglo-Latin conquerors, for it is to Clemenceau's cordon sanitaire and its Caesarian implications that one must assign the presence of Russians at Angora, Teheran and Cabul, in sight of the roads to India and Peking and, it may be added, Tokio.

"There is a suggestion that the ultimate outcome of the policy unreelying the conversations depends on the attitudes of the great powers toward Russia and toward Sun Yat Sen. That outcome might be the cooperation of Russia and China in making available their resources to the uses of humanity—or a continued hostility to Russia and what appears like hostility to Sun Yat Sen on the part of certain great powers might forge an iron alliance between China and Russia directed to other ends. * * *

"Despite the economic blockade Russia actually is a great power and potentially perhaps the greatest power of tomorrow. * * * And this resurgent Russia will be the friend and ally of Sun Yat Sen."

NOT KNOWN HOW MANY ARE LOST ON REFUGEE SHIP

By Associated Press.

MANILA, Jan. 27.—It is reported here today that the one ship of the Russian refugee fleet reported wrecked off Formosa yesterday was small, but it is not known how many persons were aboard. All other vessels of the fleet either are in quarantine at Mariveles, Philippine islands, or else are reported en route from Formosa.

Governor General Wood questioned Admiral Stark, commander of the exiles today, regarding the title of the refugees to their ships. The admiral said they had belonged to the Kerensky regime, the last Russian government which the refugees recognized. He declared that his men were holding the vessels in trust for such stable government as might finally be established in Russia. He explained that the Vladivostok exiles refused to recognize the soviet government.

According to the Russian officers there is about $10,000 in American gold aboard the ships.

FIGHT FOR SUPREMACY BETWEEN SHOP CRAFTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—The beginning of a fight for supremacy between the federated shop crafts organization which struck July 1, and those new unions formed to take its place was seen here today as the effect of a United States railroad labor board decision ordering shop craft employes of the Grand Trunk railroad to hold a general election to determine what organization shall represent them.

COTTON GROWING INDUSTRY HAS UNUSUALLY STRONG STATISTICAL POSITION SAYS BUREAU REPORT

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The statistical position of cotton is usually strong, the department of agriculture announces in a review of the cotton growing industry for 1922.

"The world supply is so limited," says the review, "that it seems unlikely that the rate of consumption prevailing during the last five months of 1922 can continue. If it does, supplies by the end of the season will have come dangerously near the irreducible minimum, and it should be borne in mind that the 1923 crop will not be available to spinners in any appreciable volume, until well into September.

"However, the financial and economical conditions in Europe are very unsettled and should not be overlooked in considering the 1923 cotton market, as America needs European markets for its raw cotton, and to a lesser degree for its cotton goods.

"At present there seems to be some inclination among cotton producers to increase the cotton acreage during 1923 and to put forth special efforts in combating the boll weevil and other insect pests. No doubt the relatively high price of cotton will stimulate such efforts. The feeling seems to be 'more cotton for clothes and less for the boll weevil.'

Condition Improved.

"The beginning of the new year found the cotton growers in the United States in a much better financial situation than they were at the beginning of 1922. At that time a large portion of their debts contracted during the deflation period of 1920 and 1921 were still unliquidated. The very small crop of 1921, when the production dropped far below that of any year of the last two decades, resulted in somewhat higher prices during the heavy marketing period of that year, but this brought a measure of relief only to those producers who had succeeded in raising fair sized crops.

"Because of the small production of 1921, the alarming speed of boll weevil devastation, and the rapidly increasing rate of consumption of cotton by the world's cotton mills, particularly those of the United States, it was realized that an increase in acreage and production in the United States for 1922 was desirable.

"The crops of both 1921 and 1922, though small, were of relatively high grade cotton, due principally to the favorable weather during picking and the absence of killing frost until late in the year.

"The crop of 1920, which amounted to 13,271,000 bales, approached the world's average previous yearly consumption of American cotton for the period 1911-12 to 1916-17, and even this crop was nearly 1,000,000 bales below the average consumption for that period. Furthermore, the 1920 crop was the only one that was larger than the average world consumption for the eight years 1914-15 to 1921-22.

World Consumption.

The average world consumption of American cotton for the years 1911-12 to 1916-17, inclusive, was about 14,200,000 bales, and that for the period 1914-15 to 1921-22 was a little over 12,250,000 bales. Therefore, had it not been for the ample carry over from the 1914 and 1920 crops, an acute shortage of supplies would have been brought about.

"During the 12 months ending July 31, 1922, the consumption in the United States reached 5,909,820 bales, compared with 4,492,872 bales during the previous season. There has been a considerable increase in American mill consumption since the beginning of the new season on August 1, 1922.

"Much of the producers' cotton of the 1922 crop was sold early in the new season, not at the highest prices of the year, but at prices which when compared with the cost of producing the crop, were better than had been received since the inflation period of 1919 and 1920. Reports from the south indicate that many old debts have been liquidated and that those farmers who succeeded in raising a fair crop were, generally, in a better position financially than they were at the beginning of 1922. A considerable quantity of the 1922 cotton was turned over to the cooperative marketing associations for marketing, and it has been reported that a portion of this cotton is being held for higher prices."

CHARGE DEPREDATIONS ALONG LINE OF FRISCO

MEMPHIS, TENN., Jan. 27.—Depredations along the line of the St Louis and San Francisco railroad during the recent rail strike were told in detail today by railroad officials and employes summoned to appear before counsel for the government and the striking shop crafts union to make deposition preliminary to the hearing of a motion to make permanent or temporary federal injunction granted in the United States district court at Chicago when the strike was at its height several months ago.

Testimony presented covered a wide range, from minor incidents, intended, it was alleged, to hamper the operation of the road, to the fatal wounding of Charles Lanier, a shop worker, who was fired on from ambush here.

FIVE PEOPLE KILLED WHEN AUTO CRASHES THROUGH IRON FENCE

CUMBERLAND, MD., Jan. 27.—Five persons were killed this morning when an automobile crashed through an iron fence on the National pike and dropped 35 feet into Will's creek near here. The dead are: Mrs. Clara McCullough, Eva Dundee, Louise Dundee and William J. Farrell, all of Cumberland, and Edward A. Flynn of Hagerstown.

MODIFY REGULATIONS GOVERNING SALES OF AMMONIUM NITRATES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Secretary Weeks has authorized a modification of the resolution under which about 25,000 tons of ammonium nitrates, stored at the Old Hickory, Tenn., army base, will be sold at public auction February 15. As amended the regulations will permit sale of the nitrates in quantities of one car load instead of five.

The secretary in his decision announced today, responded to the requests of more than 40 members of congress, representing North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Arkansas and other states.

The congressmen said the farmers in their communities were extremely anxious to purchase the nitrates for use as fertilizer compounds and the regulation fixing the minimum purchase in lots of five car loads prevented many communities from taking advantage of army sales. One car load lot they said, could be utilized readily by the farmers.

ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS IN CONFERENCE AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Jan. 27.—U. S Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes, here today for a conference with Acting Enforcement Officer Cole and various state and federal officials was expected to cast further light upon the general "shake up" of enforcement officers in Texas.

Interest directed upon the commissioner following the removal from office of one enforcement officer at El Paso, two at Dallas, one at Houston, one at Linden and transfer of others out of the state.

David Smith, stationed at El Paso, has been notified of a transfer to Dallas, where he will have charge over the Texas, New Mexico and Arizona enforcement of prohibition, Commissioner Haynes announced.

FOUR HUNDRED CARS OF SPINACH SHIPPED

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Jan. 26.—Texas shipped more than 400 cars of spinach during the first three weeks of the present year, according to a summary of marketing activities announced today through the state radio marketing news service. The bulk of the movement rolled to New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit.

Recent rains in the central district, composed of Travis and Hays counties, will do much toward reviving the spinach crop, according to officials, and will mean an increased movement of better quality stock. The Laredo district, including Frio, La Salle, Webb, Dimmit, Zavalla, and Medina counties, has been rolling the bulk of the spinach to date. Shipments from San Marcosare expected to start within a short time, however.

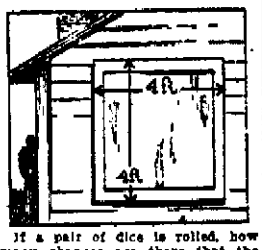
KANSAS OFFICERS ARE HUNTING FOR TWO MEN WHO GET OUT OF JAIL

ELDORADO, KAN., Jan. 27.—Officials in this region today were searching the hills for Jack Hill and Everet Robbins, who escaped from the Butler county jail late yesterday after slugging the jailer, Jeff Prather. It is believed they escaped in an automobile which was reported stolen shortly after the jail delivery.

A PUZZLE A DAY



If a pair of dice is rolled, how many chances are there that the number seven will turn up? How can the answer be proved by a simple rule?

Yesterday's Answer.

The window shown by the inner square is only one-half as large as the original window; yet each window is four feet high, four feet wide, and square.

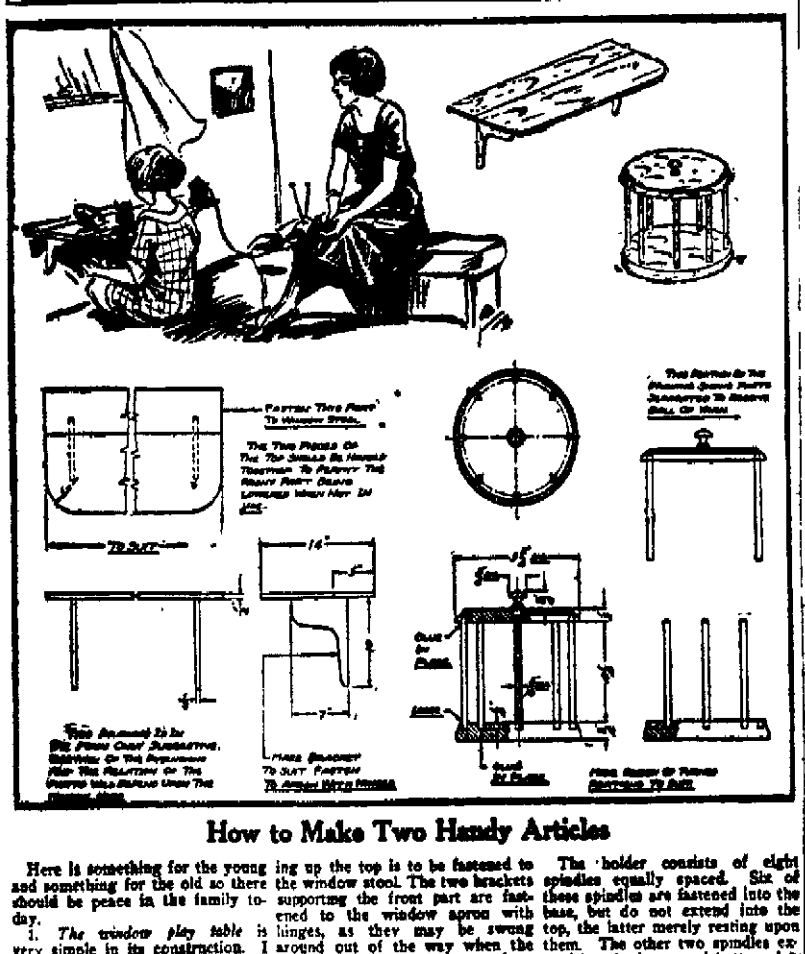
All Sorts of Things for Boys and Men to Make

By Frank I. Solar



How to Make Two Handy Articles

Here is something for the young and something for the old so there should be peace in the family today.

1. The window play table is very simple in its construction. I made one for my little girl. She gets a lot of fun out of it. She piles there books and toys which would otherwise be strewn about the room.

The length of the shelf will depend upon the window to which it is fastened. The top pieces are to be hinged together so that the front part may be lowered when not in use. The small piece making up the top is to be fastened to the window stool. The two brackets supporting the front part are fastened to the window apron with hinges, as they may be swung around out of the way when the front part of the top is lowered.

This shelf should be sandpapered and finished to fit with the woodwork of the room.

2. A Yarn Ball Holder. In the same drawing you will find also directions for making a yarn ball holder. This is more difficult to make than the shelf, as all the parts may be turned up on the lathe.

The holder consists of eight spindles equally spaced. Six of these spindles are fastened into the base, but do not extend into the top, the latter merely resting upon them. The other two spindles extend into both top and bottom, but are fastened only into the top. In this way the top is held in position without slipping around. The ball of yarn is placed inside the spindles and the end is pulled through.

As to the design of the turned parts, that is left to choice. The limits in size are given, and that is all that is necessary.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—In line with the belated opening of the baseball season this year, the Minneapolis club of the American association will start spring training two weeks later than usual. The squad will practice at Clarksdale, Miss., this year instead of Dyersburg, Tenn., the camp for the past two years.

A jockey club with 200 members has been organized for the purpose of reestablishing horse racing in St. Louis. It is planned to construct a $500,000 track. Although the state law prohibits betting, Joseph A. Murphy, the organizer, asserts oral betting, where no money changes hands, will be allowed.

Cleveland is to have two new race tracks next spring. The courses will be ready when the harness race season opens June 4. Both are half mile ovals and will be for trotting and pacing races. Dates have been assigned to both tracks by the Ohio Short Ship circuit.

Jole Ray, crack middle distance runner for the Illinois Athletic club, today anticipated his appearance in eastern meets with a certain degree of confidence, after his return to old time form here last night in the I. A. C. invitation meet. He won the mile race in 4:24 2-5.

CHAPTER I

John Hannon's Firmament

Paradise! What words shall one choose to tell of it and those who made it—of its beauty its strength and its arrogance?

In a land where distance hazed the southern skyline where tawny buttes and mesas stood majestically against the blue, where bunch grass levels swept toward the illimitable west and the Blind Trail Hills rose stark and forbidding upon the east it lay like the heart of peace itself smiling in the sun green with its wide alfalfa fields beneath its living waters.

Worn old-fashioned chairs and benches stood hospitably on the clean-swept earth where the poplars made their shaking shade and hammocks gay with fringe swung in the little breezes

And half circling this enchanting spot upon the left there stood the ranch house itself

The house was irregular full of great rooms and passage ways and sudden turnings of mysterious and unexpected nooks and corners in the center of the half circle which it formed around the spring and the cottonwoods two great doors opened inward taking the stranger abruptly into a room so huge—so high so wide so deep—that he invariably caught his breath

Its hard earth floor was covered by every corner with Indian rugs staring black-and white every one of which in its beautiful design its size its thickness was worth a pocket full of gold On its walls yet other rugs and blankets were stretched between the long deep rifts that answered for windows but these were bright with color—flaming reds and golds and the sharp clear contrast of the blacks that only the Indian weavers know so well how to use Here and there among these striking panels there hung a picture or two—and again the stranger stared for one was the Mona Lisa with her ever entrancing smile and one was Psyche at Spring in the exquisite lights and tints of April while yet one other was that undying joy to those who love horse flesh Rosa Bonheur's Horse Fair full four feet long

There were couches against the walls and in one corner where the light fell softly from the west through the fine leaded pane outside the window a piano so old that its once milk white keys were yellow as an old dog's tooth lifted its harp shaped top majestically against the piece of ancient tapestry that draped the wall behind A narrow bench entirely covered with minute carvings black with age stood weakly before it as if glad to serve in its lowly way the once grand instrument

Here in the dusk a woman came sometimes feeling with outstretched hands for the things she could not see and sliding softly on the ancient bench played tinkling tunes of a long past day A sweet fair woman she was frail and delicate of outline and demeanor with patient lines in her clear face and with the light of a splendid soul shining in her dark eyes

For 29 years she had been like a prisoner in this fortress but guarded by so many loving hearts watched by so many eager eyes served by so many eager hands that she was in reality a queen And here often when she played her nameless tunes a man came to find her to sit and listen and to watch her face with such a heart ache on his features that Tragedy stalked through the shadowed room

This was John Hannon the boss of the rancho the greatest one man power in the country of the mesas hated by his far neighbors for his fences and his fields and his methods feared by his enemies and a shining mark for that sharp gentry of the border whose raids and crimes were a load on the hearts of all the ranchers within striking distance of the line And the slim blind woman was his wife Belle the only woman creature he had ever loved in his life save one and whose affliction had darkened the windows of his soul with bitter rebellion

John Hannon land stretched for many miles according to his strength to hold it and cattle grazed on the

"Give him th best the ranch's got," he said to Brenton

sweet bunch grass as far as the eye could see Four living springs among the mesas more precious than gold in that half desert land were his by right of long possession and might of protection

Cowboys vaqueros slept in the long bunk house that stood to the right of the ranch house and the barns followed the rattling chuck wagons rode the range and were John Hannon's to a man for this big heavy ranchero was of a personality that drew men to him strongly or repelled them as strongly His dark eyes were changeable soft as shadows when he looked upon his wife keen and bright as flame when his swift anger was aroused

And that was not so rare a thing this rousing of his wrath, for there were those who resented his broad fields of alfalfa that ran toward the south who called him a nester that title of opprobrium—the cattle men who looked with suspicion and desire upon the pride of John Hannon's heart namely the wondrous horses that ran inside his fences

Ah Those horses How shall one describe them?

They were red as heart's blood and every whit as vital In every shade from the pale flame red of the young matched racers, Firebrand and The Flame, with their cream white manes and tails through the darker blood-bay tones of old Mottfoot their mother of Redcloud of Dawnlight the wild young mare with her evil heart of Lightning the beautiful they ranged to the deep and splendid color of Redstar the king

If the others were amazing in their beauty and perfection Red star was beyond comparison. And he was not kin to the Red Brood since he was an alien brought from none knew what distant land save John Hannon himself who had ridden him home one day in spring some four years back after a long and silent absence

The boss had swung stiffly from him that spring twilight and laid upon his neck a hand that was eloquent of pride

Give him th best th ranch's got" he said to Brinton the foreman now an always

Where on earth d you get him" asked the other wonderingly but the rancher turned wearily away toward the comfort of his house

So far from here that you wouldn't know Tom he said and he added as an afterthought his price has left me nearly busted

So Redstar came to Paradise, and it was Paradise to him in all truth for he had the run of all the fresh green fields the open stretches where the bunch grass grew when the riders were about a private paddock all his own and none but the master ever backed him until—until Val Hannon grew up sufficiently to look her daddy in the eye with her two velvet orbs and demanded the king to ride

And Val Hannon ranked above the horses if such a thing were possible—perhaps because her mother loved him with an idolatry that lit up her dark eyes

But there was reason in plenty for the boss to rank his daughter first for there was reason a man might heed a rapped in the slim young form of her four of the Red Brood strained compared on Val Hannon beg gared

And Redstar was the prize the crown of Paradise the imperial sovereign before whom the other must bow in abjection—but the sweetest kindest simplest ruler that ever wore a bridle

CHAPTER II

Hide Play

On a warm sweet day in early summer the town of Santa Leandra drowsed beneath its trees half asleep and utterly at peace

Santa Leandra was an ancient one among towns Three generations back she had sent out her wagons with their freight of gold brought them back laden with supplies for the two stores Today the wagons still creaked over the many miles of bunch grass plain that lay between her and the railroad—the railroad that would never come nearer—and they still carried a slender freight of gold still brought back supplies For Santa Leandra though seemingly of the past was very much of the present

On this particular day the life of the one street was gathered at the rack before Hunnewell's store where a dozen or horses were tied

For a game was running at Hunnewell's and had run since the night before One of those horses at the rack belonged to Brideman who rode alone and when he struck town there was already play worth while at Hunnewell's Brideman carried gold always and though that was no rare thing it was forever worth the taking

But it took a good one to take it from Brideman in all truth—usually Corey who lived in the big stone house at the north end of the street or Sanchez who came in from the outskirts

Both of these were at the table now, along with Tait and Hunnewell himself and several cowboys in chaps and sombreros with their six shooters hanging low at their lean hips. Brideman big bearded blond and full of laughter was in high fettle this day and was cleaning up on all of them He had played for 16 hours straight on end and was fresh as at the beginning keen as a razor

At Hunnewell's afore the bar as being of first import came first on the left as one entered the place Beyond there ran the counter over which the wives of Santa Leandra bought their flour and sugar their calico and ginghams by the yard To the right there stood several tables like the one at which the men were playing

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY
Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Other Mothers
Windom, Minn.—"I was so run-down that I was just good for nothing I was to become the mother of my ninth child, and I thought I did not have the strength to go through with it. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has surely done all I could ask it to do and I am telling all my friends about it. I have a nice big baby girl and am feeling fine. You may use this letter to help other sick mothers."—Mrs. C A. MOENE, Box 634, Windom, Minn.
My First Child
Glen Allen, Ala.—"I have been greatly benefited by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bearing down feelings and pains. I was troubled in this way for nearly four years following the birth of my first child, and at times could hardly stand on my feet A neighbor recommended the Vegetable Compound to me after I had taken doctor's medicines without much benefit It has relieved my pains and gives me strength. I recommend it and give you permission to use my testimonial letter."—Mrs. IDA EYE, Glen Allen, Alabama.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

MISS PIG'S VALENTINE

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Here, here" giggled Miss Pig "Isn't it lovely?"

This was Mister Brown Bear's valentine to Miss Patty Pig

Nancy and Nick took it to her because Miss Pig didn't come to the hickory tree postoffice herself living in a small house with no outside door except the one into the barnyard

And Miss Patty was far too stout to squeeze through the rails of the fence

"Just wait and I'll read it to you" she said to the Twins "Or better still you sit on the top rail of the fence and read it to me I see you have magical glasses and Buster's writing is hard to read

So Nancy began

Oh dearest Miss Pat
So round and so fat
I would that you were mine,
From Maine to New York
What is finer than pork?
Pray be my valentine

Oh darling Miss Pig
You're growing so big
You make me have a sigh
You're so tempting and sweet
(Quite lovely to eat)
That you bring a tear to my eye

Oh lovely Miss Pork
Just say you'll be mine
I am a sad pig to know my fate
If you will just say yes
To the suit I press
Meet me tonight by the gate

Oh lovely Miss Pork
A knife and fork
Are the only adornment you need
If you'll only be mine
Then together we'll dine
And I'll have most an excellent feed

Your tail in a curl
Sets my head all a whirl
The ring in your nose I admire
Oh lovely Miss Pig
I will dance me a jig
If you'll be my heart's desire"

"That's all" said Nancy
"Her" her giggled Miss Pig "Isn't it lovely"

"If I were you" advised Nick "I'd be careful It looks to me as if Mister Bear wasn't asking you to a dinner But to be his dinner"
